2. Enter the keyword in the search bar.

The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect website interface. At the top left is the ScienceDirect logo. To its right are the links "Journals & Books", a help icon, a library icon, "Register", and "Sign in". Further right is a notification: "You have institutional access". Below this is a search instruction: "Search for peer-reviewed journal articles and book chapters (including open access content)". The search bar is divided into three sections: "Find articles with these terms" (containing the text "electronic record" and highlighted with a red box), "in this journal or book title", and "Author(s)". To the right of the search bars are a "Search" button with a magnifying glass icon and a link to "Advanced search".

Below the search interface is a promotional banner for "Confidence IN RESEARCH". The banner features a woman in a purple jacket looking thoughtful. The text reads: "Elsevier has partnered with leading science organizations and Economist Impact for a global collaboration to understand the impact of the pandemic on confidence in research — and to identify areas for action to support researchers." A button at the bottom of the banner says "Read the Economist Impact report" with an external link icon. In the bottom right corner of the banner area is a "FEEDBACK" button with a speech bubble icon.

3. The search result will appear and user can refer to the number of title available.

The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect search interface. At the top, the ScienceDirect logo is on the left, and navigation links for 'Journals & Books', 'Register', and 'Sign in' are on the right. A search bar contains the text 'electronic record' with a search icon. Below the search bar, there is a link for 'Advanced search'. A light blue banner contains a message: 'Due to the large number of search results, only the last three years are included. Refine your search to see older results.' Below this, the search results are displayed. On the left side of the results area, a red box highlights the text '1,000,000+ results'. Below this, there is a 'Set search alert' link and a 'Refine by:' section with options for 'Subscribed journals' and 'Years' (2025, 2024, 2023). The main results area shows two items, each with a checkbox, a document icon, and the text 'Research article • Full text access'. The first item is 'The use of electronic health records in advanced practice nursing education: a scoping review' from the 'Journal of Professional Nursing', dated 18 December 2023, by Karen J. Whitt, Cynthia L. Allen, and Angela M. McNelis. The second item is 'Multidisciplinary user experience of a newly implemented electronic patient record in Ireland: An exploratory qualitative study' from the 'International Journal of Medical Informatics', dated 28 February 2024, by Anne-Marie Brady, Jennifer Fortune, and Miriam Roche. Each item has options to 'View PDF', 'Abstract', 'Extracts', 'Figures', and 'Export'. On the right side of the results area, there is a 'Suggested topics' section with 'Electronic Record' in Computer Science. At the bottom right, there is a 'FEEDBACK' button.
